

UK Safer Internet Centre

Welcome to the new UKSIC Insider

Hello and welcome to the newly revamped UK Safer Internet Centre Insider. Every month we will bring you the latest stories and updates from the 3 partners in the UKSIC: Childnet International, The IWF (International Watch Foundation), and SWGfL (South West Grid for Learning).

IWF Deputy CEO appointed INHOPE President

The Internet Watch Foundation's Deputy CEO Fred Langford has become the next President of INHOPE (International Association of Internet Hotlines), the umbrella organisation uniting a global network of hotlines tackling child sexual abuse imagery online and child sexual exploitation.

Read the full story

SWGfL publishes report into 'What Causes Young People Upset Online'

SWGfL, a partner in the UK Safer Internet Centre, has published a report that

Free Cyber Bullying Resources for Teachers

At The UK Safer Internet Centre, we have created many adaptable and practical resources for teachers and other educators that aim to empower young people to create kinder online

IWF launches Reporting Portal in DR Congo

The IWF, a partner in the UK Safer Internet Centre, has announced the launch of a new safe and anonymous Reporting Portal for reporting child sexual abuse images and explores 'What Causes Young People Upset Online'. The report is the second in a series, titled Young People, Internet Use and Wellbeing in the UK.

Read the full article

communities and show them how they can report cyberbullying.

Read the full article

videos in the Dominican Republic (DR) of Congo, delivered in partnership with the DR Congo government.

Read the full article

